Epicurean chocolates -- the quintessential party favor

Los Angeles, Calif. -- Sensually sweet creations! Happy Ending Chocolate is a Los Angeles based company specializing in chocolate bonbons and truffles. Each handcrafted bonbon carries a unique flavor experience. With flavors such as The Blue Pill, an acai blueberry flavored ganache encased in a white chocolate shell, and Blossom, a lavender and earl grey tea flavored ganache encased in a 62% dark chocolate shell, Happy Ending utilizes a unique blend of ingredients to create an extra sensory taste.

The company's values bear an artisan philosophy of high quality, passion for the craft, and love for the chocolate. Their approach can convey similarities to the treatment of a rare jewel or a piece of fine art; time, dedication, and hard work play a key role in the creation of the chocolate masterpieces.

By utilizing the local farmers markets, Happy Ending uses only the freshest ingredients. Their chocolates are made to order and contain no added preservatives. The company currently focuses on special events and weddings, where chocolates are customized specific to client needs. Happy Ending enjoys the challenge of creating personalized presentations for both boxed and loose chocolates. Individual boxes can be purchased through the online storefront. Happy Ending has a bright future, and their aspiration of spreading chocolate throughout will bring love to all.
